Informational meeting slated to discuss future of fish hatchery

Crawford County will host a public informational forum at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 16 at the Crawford County Building to discuss the Grayling Fish Hatchery.

The purpose of this forum will be to explain future intentions regarding the Grayling Fish Hatchery and to solicit comments regarding those plans.

Crawford County is considering changes within the deed that would create a public/private partnership with Harrietta Hills Trout Farm, LLC on the property allowing for commercial fish production along with public access during certain times of the year.

The Grayling Fish Hatchery facility was conveyed to Crawford County in 1983 and has been operated by the Grayling Fish Hatchery Committee and then the Grayling Recreation Authority as a summer attraction and tourist destination.

Following a number of years of financial losses, the Grayling Recreation Authority announced in 2012 that they would no longer be able to maintain the summer recreation program.

Harrietta Hills Trout Farm, LLC approached the County in May of 2012 with a proposal to operate the summer recreation program at the hatchery in return for the opportunity to utilize the facility for year-round trout production.

The county and Harrietta Hills reached an agreement on an interim contract that would allow the facility to open for summer 2012 under Harrietta Hills Trout Farm management while both entities worked to clear up technical, regulatory challenges prior to entering into a long-term contractual arrangement for the operation of the hatchery.

"This arrangement is a tremendous opportunity to secure the long-term operation of the hatchery, which has become an icon in the Grayling community," said Crawford County Administrator Paul Compo said. "Equally as exciting is the opportunity to form a public/private partnership that will benefit our community. The County Board of Commissioners would like to do everything possible to maintain the hatchery property and preserve its role as a destination."

Lovells Bridge Walk will help celebrate centennial

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The celebration of Lovells Township's centennial will continue with one of the community's biggest gatherings - The Lovells Bridge Walk.

The Lovells Township Board held an open house and luncheon to mark its official 100th anniversary date for the establishment of the township - Jan. 4, 1912 - earlier this year.

The celebration will continue on with the 21st annual Lovells Bridge Walk on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Activities will get underway for the day at 8 a.m. with the fireman's pancake breakfast. At noon the parade and walk across the Lovells Bridge will be held.

"The parade is going to be bigger than ever and we will have a lot more people," said Lovells Township Clerk Cynthia Infante.

Afterwards, a community lunch will be held. People are encouraged to bring a dish to share. Hot dogs and brats on the grill will be provided. Water and pop will also be available. A $5 per person donation is encouraged.

Several prizes will be given out based on the numbers on the back of annual Lovells Bridge Walk buttons. The buttons are available for purchase at area businesses.

Children's events will be held from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

"We have a real good team that has organized the activities and we're going to follow the birthday theme and will have a pinata and some nice activities for the children," Infante said.

Throughout the day, 50/50 drawings will be held.

A silent auction and live entertainment will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Lovells was named for Judge Louis Lovell, who was a judge in the eighth judicial district. A petition for the division of Maple Forest Township was presented to the County Board of Supervisors on Jan. 4, 1912, because residents in the Lovells area wanted to have their own representation for that portion of Crawford County.

Joe Simms presented the petition, which was signed by residents from the Maple Forest Township and Lovells areas.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Connie Kelley, who is a candidate for the Michigan Supreme Court, will be at the Lovells Bridge Walk to recognize some of the community's older citizens and will also present a citizenship award.

"Since Lovells was started by a judge, we thought it would be cool if she did the presentation," Infante said.

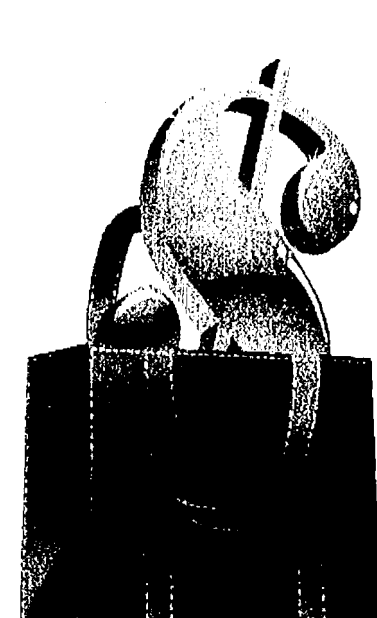

All proceeds will benefit the Lovells Township Fire/EMS Department

Currently, the fire department is seeking funds to purchase exhaust fans, which will be used to draw the exhaust fumes from the fire trucks and ambulances, out of the fire hall.

The fire department would also like to purchase additional lockers for its volunteer firefighters.

"They don't have enough space for all of their equipment," Infante said. "It is a big need."

Animal control officer praised for swift response

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Crawford County animal control officer was recently praised for preserving the health of the adoptable pet population at the AuSable Valley Animal Shelter while making a tough decision for 16 dogs seized from a transient man.

Crawford County Sheriff's Deputy Michael Jacobi was dispatched to the Burton's Landing State Forest Campground on the AuSable River at 9:46 p.m. on July 5. The situation involved a man who was not paying camping fees, washing feces covered blankets at the water pumps, leaving dog feces at the well and having a number of dogs at a camp site.

Upon arrival at the camp site in question, Jacobi encountered Henry Richard Rogan Jr., age 54, from Celina, Tenn. Jacobi asked Rogan how many dogs he had. Rogan replied that he had three dogs outside the van and four dogs inside the vehicle. Rogan's van was turned off and only had the driver side window open. Temperatures that day reached the mid-90's with high humidity and a heat index warning. At the time of Jacobi's arrival, the temperature was in the high 80's.

"An overwhelming putrid feces smell was extreme prior to being closer than 20 yards from the van," Jacobi said in his report of the incident.

After checking Rogan's identification through the Law Enforcement Information Network, it was discovered that he had an outstanding warrant for felony burglary in Oakland County. Jacobi arrested Rogan for the warrant and deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Office said they would pick him up.

When asked if he had family in the area, Rogan first said they lived in Kalkaska but then said they lived in Traverse City. Upon being questioned further about other family members, Rogan said they were either in Roscommon or Gaylord, but did not know which community.

Jacobi turned on the van and its air conditioning and saw more than four dogs in the vehicle.

Upon arrival of Crawford Animal Control Officer Gail Foguth and Crawford County Sheriff's Deputy Randy Barnes, the dogs were placed into the animal control vehicle and it was confirmed that a total of 16 dogs were in Rogan's possession. The dogs appeared nourished, but were unruly and most were without collars.

Up to one inch of feces was noted in the rear cargo area of the van.

"It was terrible," said Crawford County Sheriff Kirk A. Wakefield.

Deputies also found two boxes or cremated remains among other items. Rogan acknowledged that one was the partial remains of his mother, while the other contained an old dog.

The van was registered to Penske Truck Leasing in Tampa. Employees there told Jacobi that the van was only to be used for commercial purposes and it was unclear how Rogan came into possession of the vehicle.

Above, the lone survivor of 16 dogs seized on July 5, a red bone hound that has been named "Lucky Dalton," remains at the AuSable Valley Animal Shelter.

Over the next several hours, Foguth processed the dogs at the AuSable Valley Animal Shelter, keeping them in outside kennels because they were visibly sick and wild.

"They were very, very ill," said Sharon Priebe, the secretary and treasurer for the AuSable Valley Animal Shelter. "Some of them were not very nice dogs."

The next day, Foguth and Dr. Paul Mesack, the owner of the Grayling Hospital for Animals, evaluated the dogs. It was decided that 15 of the dogs should be euthanized given their condition.

"It was a very hard decision," Priebe said.

Priebe credited Foguth for quarantining the dogs outside to preserve the health of the adoptable animals at the shelter.

"She tried every which way to keep the shelter from getting contaminated,"

Priebe said. "These dogs were desperately sick."

Cheryl Postma, the director of the AuSable Valley Animal Shelter, said the dogs seized included chow mixes, cattle dogs and herding dogs.

The lone survivor, a red bone hound that has been named "Lucky Dalton," remains at the shelter. He is still recovering from a staph infection, from being bitten by the dogs and living in the filthy conditions, but will soon be available for adoption.

"He's bouncing back," Postma said. "He gaining weight and is doing very well."

Although often times placed in a negative position given people's beliefs and passion for animals, Priebe told the Crawford County Board of Commissioners that Foguth needs all the support she can get.

"Your animal control officer is hugely valuable to this community," Priebe said. "She had done a tremendously good job. She deserves all the help that she can get."

Annual Neighborhood Connections event to be held

The Crawford County Human Services Collaborative is set to host their third annual Neighborhood Connections event at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 14 at the Grayling High School.

The event will connect community members to the variety of services and programs available around the area.

The Crawford County Collaborative Body is a group of human service representatives from agencies in or servicing Crawford County. The group meets monthly to share information and address shared community needs in an effort to reduce the duplication of services provided in our community.

The group sought out a larger venue to accommodate the growing number of participating agencies and attendees. Highlights include a food bank truck, free car seat safety checks, free gunlocks, free blood sugar checks, free dental checks, face painting and an appearance of some locally rescued birds through the Association of Rescuing Kritters (ARK).

Agencies will be distributing information on a variety of services covering all ages from early childhood to senior citizen services. Information will cover free tax services, housing information, building safety, mental health services, environmental issues and much more.

The food bank truck will be present due to local support from the Grayling Sportsman's Club, Fick and Sons, John Alef and Habitat for Humanity.

Personal hygiene items will be handed out with funds donated from Strong Families Safe Children, United Way and a local resident.

Harrietta Hills General Manager Dan Vogler is looking forward to a long-term working relationship with the county to maintain the significant historical and recreational aspects of the Hatchery facility, while re-developing the capacity of the facility to contribute much needed aquaculture production to the state and local economy.

"This project has a wonderful potential to be a win-win situation, providing jobs and economic activity locally and contributing to the growth of Michigan's economy in the up and coming aquaculture sector," Vogler said. "Harrietta Hills understands the unique characteristics of this historic facility, and will seek to manage it in such a way as to preserve the recreational and historic aspects of the hatchery as well as respecting the importance of the waters of the East Branch."

The Grayling Fish Hatchery has seen a steady stream of visitors during the sunny, summer weather since Harrietta Hills took over management of the facility.

Sydney Lipschitz, age 5, visited the Grayling Fish Hatchery for the first time last Friday with her parents Debbie Anderson and Elan Lipschitz.

"We came before and it was closed, so we decided to make a repeat trip," Elan said.

The family, from Midland, was in the Grayling area for camping, canoeing and fishing.

"It's pretty entertaining," Elan said of the fish hatchery. "You're guaranteed to catch fish, plus you can feed the fish and see them jumping, which is nice."

Sydney fed a bag of fish food to the rainbow trout and brown trout being reared in the fish hatchery's raceways. She then snagged a couple of rainbow trout to take back to their campsite.

"I liked feeding the fish," Sydney said. "I want to come back again."

Ray Yates, who works for the U.S. Department of State, brought his daughters Zoe and Ava to the fish hatchery last Friday.

Yates was in northern Michigan before taking a new diplomacy mission in Saudi Arabia. His daughters live in Cape Town, South Africa.

"It's great for the kids and it's a good introduction to fishing," said Yates of the Grayling Fish Hatchery.

Emergency manager issue makes November ballot

IT TOOK A Michigan Supreme Court decision to do it, but repealing a new law which gives much broader powers to appointed outside managers to take over temporary management of cities and school districts in dire financial problems will be up to voters in the November election.

A group called Stand Up for Democracy circulated petitions to ask voters to repeal the tougher law which had been pushed by Gov. Rick Snyder.

A party line 2-2 vote by the State Board of Canvassers declined to approve the petitions. The petitioners went to court, and the state's highest court finally ruled the petitions were okay after all.

In a nutshell, Democrats want repeal, Republicans don't.

The legal question centered on the size of type of the headings. State law requires use of 14 point type, and a second group called Citizens for Fiscal Responsibility claimed the type wasn't big enough on the petitions as submitted.

THAT SHOULD be a cut and dried question.

In the old days, type either is 14 point or it isn't. Printers then measured the size of type from the bottom of any descending part of the letter to the top of any ascending part of the letter.

For example, in the preceding sentence, the top part of the "d" or the "b" or the "t" would be the top of the type face, and the measure of point size would stretch to the bottom part of the "g" or the "p."

That measurement system does not carry the weight it once did, as emerging computer typesetting and the proliferating designs of new type and fancier type faces obliterate the use of the old California Job Case with its hand set type letter by letter, and emergence of the linotype and its revolutionary method of casting type in molten lead an entire line by line.

IT TOOK A 4-3 vote by the Supreme Court to find the petitions satisfactory and to order the question of repeal to appear on the November general election ballot.

Just as the canvassing board's decision was along party lines, so was the Supreme Court decision ... almost.

Three Republican justices voted "No" but the newest court member, Republican Justice Mary Beth Kelly, along with three Democratic justices, approved the petitions.

THE BASIC QUESTION, it seems to me, is one of clarity, and not the actual size of the type used in captioning the petitions, as long as any perceived variance between the "is it or isn't it" in 14 point type is so miniscule.

Did the petitioners know what they were doing? Could they read and understand the wording?

Obviously they could and they did, so it satisfies the intent of the law and there should be no question of fraud or violation of the letter of the law, if indeed, by some recently emerging scale, the caption might appear to be less than the legally demanded size.

Now, in November, voters will decide on the limits of power to be granted to emergency financial managers.

In the meantime, the 2012 law is suspended, but the older law from 1990 stays in place.

CLOSING THOUGHTS - Here are a few little known facts.

Take an active step in preventing prescription drug abuse in our communities

Every day, 2,500 teenagers nationwide use a prescription drug to get high for the first time. They're accessing these drugs in the comfort of their home; it can be as easy as opening a cupboard, drawer, or medicine cabinet. In Northern Michigan, this problem is real, it's growing, and it's dangerous.

Since 2000, over 550 overdose and drug poisoning deaths have been recorded in northern and central Michigan. The majority of these deaths are related to prescription drugs. A large part of this problem is the misconception that prescription drugs are safer than illicit drugs. Prescription drugs are not safer than illicit drugs. These are powerful drugs that, when abused, can be just as dangerous as street drugs.

A prescription drug isn't safe if it wasn't prescribed for you. If you're taking a drug that was not meant for you, you are essentially abusing that drug. If you know of someone that is abusing prescription drugs, talk to them about the dangers.

You can also help prevent prescription drug abuse by storing drugs in a safe, secure place, monitoring your prescription bottles, and disposing of expired or unneeded drugs properly.

I, personally, encourage you to talk to the teens and young adults in your life about the dangers of prescription and over-the-counter drugs. These are powerful drugs that, when abused, can be just as dangerous as street drugs. Let's all take an active step in the prevention efforts of prescription drug abuse in our communities. We need to protect our families and communities against this growing public health concern.

District Health Department # 10 is partnering with Northern Michigan Substance Abuse Services (NMSAS) in Crawford County to provide prevention efforts and community education on Prescription Drug Abuse. Letters to the Editor

I was really impressed

To the editor:

I was really impressed with the Grayling AuSable River Festival the weekend of July 25 through July 29. I only made it to two of the events, the Arts and Crafts Show and the Classic Car Show. Never before, anywhere, have I ever seen so much artistic, creative and imaginative variety at a craft show. It was great. If this kind of showing continues to grow, it - plus all the other efforts in that direction like the Art Gallery - could surely help make Grayling "the Arts and Crafts Center" in Michigan.

How terrific would that be?

Then I walked the 2 1/2 blocks of the Classic Car Show. There were 110 fantastic cars on display from a 1926 Ford model T to a 2003 Buick. All beautifully restored as originally from the factory or modified in various modes. All showed the great work, countless hours and loving care their owners put into them. 110 cars and all were American classics except for a 1961 VW Beetle and a Jaguar.

There were 23 different happenings listed in the schedule of events that included various races, dinners, entertainment, a horse-shoe tournament, a parade and a concert and that's not even including the big one - the world famous AuSable River Canoe Marathon.

The weather was perfect and the crowds on Saturday were very large. I do hope all the vendors and participants had a good successful weekend and will return next year when I hope the economy will be much improved so that the show will be even bigger and better. Way to go Grayling!

Respect our nation's flag

To the editor:

Many volunteers worked long and hard to make our AuSable River Marathon a world class event. This year was great and Chad Patterson was a great addition.

There was only one thing that troubled me. As we stood for the advancement of our Nations colors, I noticed that most of the crowd was just standing there. It appeared to me that they did not know what you should be doing when the National Anthem is played.

If you are currently or have been in the military, in uniform or not, you should be standing at attention and saluting the flag. Everyone else including children should be standing, facing the flag with your right hand placed over your heart. Both men and women should remove their hats.

As Americans we should show our love of country and respect for our nation's flag. The flag our soldiers pledge their lives to protect and honor and the very flag their caskets are draped with when they have made that greatest of all sacrifices. Please teach your children what to do by your example. We are able to enjoy this Grayling tradition, our marathon, because men and women down through our history have fought under and honored our flag. Should we do anything else?

What could have been a terrible day became much better because of a man I've never met

To the editor:

On Thursday, July 26, I had come into Grayling from our property outside of town, and was hearing a strange noise coming from under my car. I crawled underneath, and to my surprise found that my gas tank was hanging down as both retaining straps were broken.

I was near a car care shop on M-72 and stopped in and met Neal, who offered to make an emergency repair to my car, since no one would have the parts necessary at 4 p.m. for my 11 year old car.

What could have been such a terrible day became much better because a man I've never met before stopped what he was doing and quickly made a fix to my car to keep me on the road, and then charged me a very modest price for his time. The receptionist even offered my dog some treats while we waited. If I ever need any car repair when I'm back in town, that's the place I'll be stopping.

Hartwick Pines presents 'A Conversation with Nels Michelson'

Visitors to Hartwick Pines will have a chance to meet 19th century Grayling area lumberman Nels Michelson and learn of his life in northern Michigan in the late 1800s and early 1900s on Aug. 11.

Hear Michelson's early life story of being drafted in the Danish Army and captured in a war with Prussia, and later being a penniless immigrant from Denmark in 1866, arriving on a ship that sat in quarantine for cholera in New York Harbor for two months. Michelson later went into the lumber industry starting out as a swamper and teamster, before meeting Rasmus Hanson and rising to the ownership and management of several lumber companies in locations such as Grayling, Houghton Lake, and Lewiston.

Michelson was a founding partner of the Salling, Hanson, and Company in Grayling, the Michelson, Hanson Company in Lewiston, and developed a small lumber community on the Muskegon River, known as Michelson. He also influenced the development of Houghton Lake and Ferndale, had homes in Grayling, Houghton Lake, and Detroit, and was a philanthropist, including funding for the Michelson Methodist Church in Grayling, named for his wife Margrethe Jenson Michelson.

The Michelson home in Grayling still stands, and Michelson's former home in Detroit is now known as the Berry Gordy Mansion, for the founder of Motown Records, a later owner of the historic mansion. Historian Rob Burg will portray Nels Michelson in this one hour program at the Logging Museum Amphitheater on Saturday, Aug. 11 at 8 p.m. This program is part of the annual Forest Fest event, celebrating the heritage of our forests. Activities at the Visitor Center and Logging Museum will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There is no charge for Forest Fest or the Conversation with Nels Michelson program; however a State Park Recreation Passport is required for park entry. If you do not have one on your vehicle, you may purchase one at the park. For more information, please call (989) 348-2537.

Health department offering back-to-school vaccinations

The Health Department would like to remind parents that certain vaccinations are required by the State of Michigan for students entering school or preschool this fall. Beat the back-to-school rush and get these needed vaccines now.

Depending on age and previous vaccine history, your young child or teen may need one or more of the following vaccines:

- DTaP (Diphtheria, Tetanus, Pertussis);
- Polio;
- Hib;
- MMR (Measles, Mumps, Rubella);
- Hepatitis B;
- Pneumococcal;
- Meningococcal;
- Varicella (Chickenpox).

Protection from childhood vaccines does not last forever. Some vaccines protect for a short time, even years, but not your whole life. Examples are tetanus, diphtheria, and pertussis (whooping cough) vaccines. Children 11-12 years of age need another dose to be fully protected.

Since it can be confusing to figure out exactly which vaccines or boosters are needed, contact your local health department or health care provider for guidance. Information is also available at www.michigan.gov/immunize or by following the "Immunization" link on the District Health Department #10 website at www.dhd10.org.

Many health insurance plans cover the cost of vaccines. Help may also be available through Vaccines for Children (VFC) or other programs.

Call your local office of District Health Department #10 for an appointment or information now. In Crawford County call 989-348-7800; in Kalkaska County call 231-258-8669.

Join the battle against Purple Loosestrife

Purple Loosestrife is a highly aggressive non-native invasive species that threatens wetlands, streams and rivers. The AuSable River Property Owners Association is hosting a second annual Purple Loosestrife treatment day, Aug. 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., starting at McMaster's Bridge Landing and ending at Parmalee Bridge Landing. Lunch and canoes will be provided. RSVP to Lisa at ausabletech@gmail.com or 989-348-6371 ext. 7470.

Lisa Tobin, Huron Pines AmeriCorps member serving with the AuSable River Watershed Committee, will share the history and potential impact of Purple Loosestrife to the AuSable River ecosystem and will give instructions on how to identify and mechanically treat Purple Loosestrife. Participants will then have a hands-on opportunity to canoe the river and mechanically remove Purple Loosestrife.

Invasive species and particularly Purple Loosestrife in The AuSable River corridor is a priority for the Watershed Committee. This event is one of several during the 2012 field season aimed at removing Purple Loosestrife in the river.

This is the fourth year the ARPOA has worked with the Watershed Committee, Michigan DNR and Huron Pines to keep Purple Loosestrife from harming the AuSable River. Because of the aggressive nature of Purple Loosestrife, the ARPOA will continue this program for years to come.

Huron Pines AmeriCorps is a program of Huron Pines and is supported in part by the Corporation for National and Community Service, Michigan Community Service Commission, Huron Pines and contributions from host sites. Huron Pines is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization and an equal opportunity provider.

The Bible Speaks

Morality is Godly

God revealed the first standard for civil and moral right when He wrote the 10 commandments in stone and gave them to Moses for the nation of Israel. The 10 commandments were the civil law for our forefathers in the early colonies. These same 10 commandments were the foundation of Western Civilization. When civil wrongs punished for centuries in Western Civilization become respected civil rights we are reminded again that government cannot claim to be amoral. When deviant minority behavior is legalized in the name of civil justice, the government promotes immorality. Because we are governed by laws, the majority of the citizens in a growing number of states are being forced to accept legalized deviant behavior.

Do we oppose sodomy because we hate sodomites? No! God commands us to love everybody. Yet, the same God commands us to hate evil. God teaches us to make a distinction between the sin and the sinner. God tells us in Psalm 97:10: "Ye that love the LORD, hate evil..." Yet, we live among many deviants in Micah 3:2: "Who hate the good, and love the evil. God compels us to preach against sodomy because it is a sin which destroys individuals, families, and nations."

Some might remind us that God told us to love our neighbors. True. (Lev. 19:18) "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the LORD." But those who talk about loving your neighbor by tolerating their sin ignore the context of the preceding verse: (Lev. 19:17) "Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbor, and not suffer sin upon him." Those who practice sin today accuse us of hatred when we obey God's command to rebuke sin. But in reality, it is those who turn sin into a civil right who really hate them. Since we shall all face a Holy God in judgment some day, it is the person who rebukes sin who is really showing Christian love toward the sinner. And since Sodomy destroys nations, it is the Christian who rebukes Sodomy who is really being a patriotic citizen.

Some 40 years ago when this column started we were strongly opposing abortion as a national sin. Then, a group of Supreme Court judges had by judicial oligarchy established tolerance for the sin of murder. They did it under the banner of civil rights. Every moral law of God is now under attack. The 10 commandments of God have been removed from the classrooms of public schools in America by judicial oligarchy. Liberal judges are replacing God as the supreme authority in moral as well as legal decisions.

Where will we go from here? Will we soon say it is right to have more than one spouse? Will we give pedophiles a right to have sex with children of a certain age? Will we soon say hunches or perjury is right and acceptable? Will the right to kill a partially born child be expanded to other groups? Will money, media and politics continue to decide morality? Is true justice and equality possible without God? Are we still: "One nation under God?" Pastor "B"

Man arrested for shooting and beheading pit bull

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

A 19-year-old Crawford County man accused of shooting a pit bull and cutting its head off with the intention of returning it to its owner was arrested after turning himself in on Sunday.

Crawford County Sheriff Kirk A. Wakefield said Seven Anthony Stuart was arrested at Crawford County Sheriff's Office Jail at 11:35 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 5 for felony animal cruelty charges. Deputies had been in contact with Stuart by telephone as he drove back from Alabama to turn himself in.

Wakefield said a sheriff's deputy was dispatched to a complaint of animal cruelty at the intersection of Wilcox Bridge Road and Jones Lake Road in Grayling Charter Township at 3:10 p.m. on Sunday, July 29.

Once at the scene, the deputy was shown the body of a 6-year-old brindle pit bull named "Smokey." Dan Kelley is the dog's owner.

The killing had taken place in Lovells Township and the dog's body had been buried. Kelley went to Lovells Township and retrieved the body. The dog had been shot and decapitated. The head was not with the body.

Stuart had contacted Kelley earlier by phone and left a message, saying that he killed the dog. Stuart said that the head had been taken to have it processed to return to the owner much like someone would do with a trophy animal mount, Wakefield said.

The deputy handling the case contacted Stuart by telephone and he admitted to the crime, stating that the dog was aggressive with everyone and "had to be put down." Stuart also admitted to the statement made to the dog's owner about returning the head as "a remembrance."

On Tuesday, July 31 at 8:19 a.m. deputies were sent to the stop sign at the intersection of Stephan Bridge Road and North Down River Rd to recover the head of the pit-bull, Wakefield said.

Wakefield said the head of the dog was in a bag and placed at the intersection for someone to have it mounted.

"It's unbelievable," Wakefield said.

Kelley said his mother adopted Stuart three years ago.

Kelley brought Smokey to Grayling when he returned to the community from Florida six years ago.

Kelley said the dog was around his daughter as well as Stuart's daughter and was never aggressive with anyone.

Kelley said the killing of Smokey had more to do with a dispute between the brothers rather than being an alleged aggressive dog.

"We had a falling out awhile back," Kelly said. "Anybody that knew the dog knew he was not aggressive."

Smokey was living in a home in the City of Grayling, while Kelley was working on a residence in Grayling Charter Township, where he plans to live.

"Supposedly, he loved the dog, so I don't see how he could do this," Kelley said of Stuart.

Late last week, Kelley was still in shock over the ordeal.

"I loved the dog," Kelley said. "I couldn't even shoot him, let alone what he did."

Kelley planned to go fishing over the weekend with a friend to try to keep from thinking about the situation.

"I just want justice for Smokey," Kelley said. "Nothing is going to be good enough, but it's just whatever the best that can happen."

Stuart was released from jail after posting 10 percent on a cash or surety bond. He is scheduled to be arraigned in Crawford County District Court on Wednesday, Aug. 22 for two counts of felony animal cruelty, which carry a maximum sentence of four years in prison.

Wakefield said the case is still under investigation.

Forgotten Eagles rolling into town

Grayling area residents are encouraged to come out and support the Forgotten Eagles of Michigan as they roll into the community on Friday.

The Forgotten Eagles of Michigan is holding their ninth annual Ride Around Michigan Wednesday through Saturday.

The Ride Around Michigan will include a stop at the Crawford County Building at 11:15 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 10. The Forgotten Eagles will place a wreath at the American Legion Memorial in front of county building and will hold a brief ceremony.

A luncheon, hosted by the American Legion Post #106, will be served at noon.

The Forgotten Eagles are making stops in 18 northern Michigan communities during the Ride Around Michigan. The finale for the ride includes a trip on Saturday from Houghton Lake to Island Park in Mt. Pleasant, where Michigan's Vietnam Veterans Memorial is located.

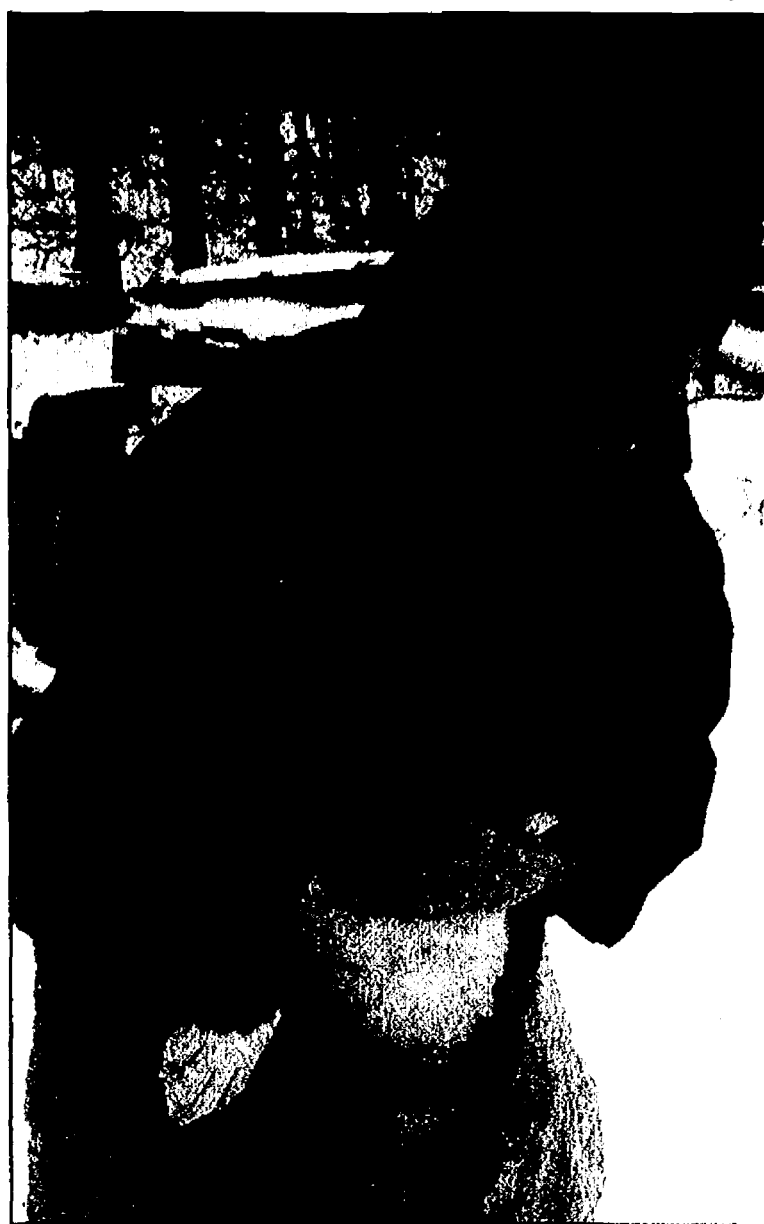

Since the Ride Around Michigan was established, the Forgotten Eagles have raised nearly $100,000 for the Michigan's Veterans Trust Fund, the largest contributor since the fund was established in 1946.

NEW CABINS UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT CAMP GRAYLING FOR VISITORS

Sleeping hasn't felt this good.

By next summer, patrons of Camp Grayling will be able to say that after a night's stay in one of the four lake cabins on Lake Margrethe.

This past May, state employees completed groundwork and demolition of the previous lake cabins that were built in the 1950s.

"Our guys are really experienced," said Lt. Michael Alma, a facility engineer for Camp Grayling. "We try to maximize everyone's abilities."

Alma explained there were 10 carpenters and two equipment operators working to construct these new cabins. The state employees work four days a week and 12 hours a day.

"We're going to work on the exteriors until winter sets in," he said. "The workers will finish the roofs and siding before cold weather hits and focus on interior projects such as furniture, painting and other tasks throughout the winter."

The cabins are expected for operation May 28, 2013 but at the current rate of construction, this $500,000 project will be completed earlier in the year and well ahead of annual training for 2013.

Currently, it is not clear who will be able to rent these quarters, but Alma anticipates they will be open to all ranks and hopes that availability will be extended to state employees because of their efforts to build the cabins.

"People will be able to stay at the cabins year round and the farthest one down is handicapped accessible," Alma said.

The cabins will have two bedrooms on the upper level and one bedroom on the lower level, two bathrooms, kitchen and dining area. In addition, there may be cable and Internet capabilities.

With Camp Grayling's 100-year anniversary approaching in July 2013, Alma believes word of mouth will effectively market the lake cabins because each successive year, reservations for the lake cabins have filled more quickly than the previous year.

Training facility will prepare soldiers for urban combat

Residential housing, a regulation soccer field, a four story embassy with an elevator shaft, a jail with working cells and a bank are a few of the facilities that comprise a typical town.

But it's not a typical town with the addition of cameras and speakers in every room of each facility.

For almost a year, 85 workers, including masons, painters, equipment operators, steel workers, plumbers and laborers have transixed gravel roads to create a simulated urban town, known as a Combined Arms and Collective Training Facility (CACTF) at Camp Grayling.

Saylor Construction, LLC of Blissfield, is the general contractor for this 40-acre urban operations training site, a $14 million project.

The military and possibly police agencies, firefighters and emergency workers will utilize the site to conduct training exercises. As for training purposes, leadership will be able to evaluate soldiers entering and clearing rooms on monitors in the range operations control room.

Though the CACTF is comparable to the mock Iraqi villages exercises soldiers have trained on in the past, this will support the needs for urban training opportunities. Therefore, the constructed buildings will be Multiple Integrated Laser Equipment System compatible and soldiers will be able to use an M4 machine gun that shoots paintballs.

"It will be the best paintball place in Michigan," said Scott Hanson, the construction inspector for the project.

Hanson ensures the buildings are built to specifications and he has to inspect all materials, from screws to cinder blocks.

"These buildings were built to take a beating," he said. "If we built it the same way Texas builds theirs - ours wouldn't last."

Hanson explained that the buildings are built differently because of Michigan's winters. He said soldiers will be able to enter the buildings not only from ground level but also the flat top roofs. In addition, some buildings will have rapid change capabilities.

All things take time and this project is scheduled to be completed in February 2013, but Hanson thinks it will be completed by the end of this year.

"The workers got a real good head start this summer," he said. "They work from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., four days a week."

Aside of the functionality of the buildings, the town will even include a cemetery and mausoleum with coffins.

"We'll have to put something in there to scare them," Hanson said between laughs.

With all the amenities included at this site, the CACTF is an initiative for urbanized exercises for the military and will support up to battalion-sized training opportunities.

Reach Out and Read program promotes children's literacy

The Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Roscommon Intermediate School District COOR-ISC and the COOR-Iosco Great Start Collaborative (GSC) are sponsoring a new reading program in our area called "Reach Out and Read."

The program is based on a very successful early reading model that is focused on involving a child's pediatrician or other medical professional with establishing and supporting the importance of reading to and for children ages birth to 5.

The program is in its second year of a five-year grant from the federal government. The overall goal of the program is to prepare our youngest children to succeed in school by entering kindergarten with a strong interest in and ability to read.

The Reach Out and Read program is endorsed by the American Academy of Pediatrics and the National Association of Pediatric Nurse Practitioners. Reach Out and Read Programs are located in more than 4,535 hospitals and health centers in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands - and now in Crawford County.

Did you know that 34 percent of American children entering kindergarten today lack the basic language skills they will need to learn to read? Research has shown that children who live in print-rich environments and who are read to during the first years of life are more likely to develop stronger reading abilities and enter school prepared to succeed.

Reach Out and Read takes place in a doctor's office. When any child between the ages of birth to 5 sees a doctor who participates in the program for a well-child visit, such as immunizations and scheduled well-baby checkups, the doctor takes a few extra minutes with that child and their parents to discuss the importance of reading with children, how parents can make sure their children are keeping pace with speech and reading developmental milestones, and offer referrals to other reading-focused or school-readiness programs for children.

The best part - each child ages 0 to 5 will receive a free, age and reading-level appropriate book at each well-child visit. The book is theirs to keep so that the child is able to begin to build their own personal library at home and hopefully begin a lifetime love of books, reading and learning.

For children too young to read, parents often overlook the importance of reading aloud to them. Studies show that early language skills, the foundation for reading ability and school readiness, are based on language exposure resulting from parents and other adults talking to young children.

Reading difficulty contributes to school failure, which increases the risk of absenteeism, dropping out of school, juvenile delinquency, substance abuse, and teenage pregnancy - all of which perpetuate the cycles of poverty and dependency.

Although not part of the original grant funding, COOR-ISC and the GSC have added a special feature to our local version of Reach Out and Read. They have been, and will continue to conduct book drives for gently used books. These books will be used to set up "Reading Nooks" in the waiting rooms of participating Reach Out and Read doctor's offices.

The donated books will be available so that every child coming to the doctor's office has a book available to them. The grant only allows the purchase of new books for children seen on a well-child visit.

Each "Reading Nook" will have an area with a bookcase and child-sized furniture and include additional local literacy information such as literacy-themed events happening around town, local library card applications, literacy council contact information, if available and other information regarding local early childhood programs and services.

The goal for the local Reach Out and Read program is to establish and maintain a minimum of one medical office in each of the COOR counties. They have already met or exceeded the target in two of the counties - Ogemaw and Oscoda, and are currently looking for a Crawford County medical office that has a significant patient base of children ages 0-5 that would be interested in becoming a Reach Out and Read site.

In order to participate in the program, the medical office site must designate a lead medical professional (M.D., D.O., or F.N.P.) to serve as the contact person for the program. Those medical staff that will see participating patients will need to complete a brief one half-hour, on-line training about the program following the completion of an on-line application, which takes approximately 10 minutes to complete.

Participating medical sites are supported by COOR-ISC and the GSC with the provision of all books and materials needed to operate the Reach Out and Read program in their office. A program staff person is also available to provide any technical assistance needed and to maintain a supply of new books for well-child visits and donated books for general distribution.

If your medical practice is interested in participating in this program, please contact the Program Coordinator, Cindy DeLadurantaye.

The GSC will hold book drives for donations throughout the year to support the "Reading Nooks". If you have any books for children or adults that are in gently used condition, you can contact DeLadurantaye to arrange to have your books picked up. DeLadurantaye can be contacted by phone at (989) 344-9335 or via email at cindy.del@live.com.

The Kalkaska Eagles Aerie #4496 gave $2,500 to the 1071st Maintenance Company on Sunday and the Ladies Auxiliary gave the Camp Grayling-based unit $1,000. The funds were raised at the Kalkaska Eagles Car, Truck and Bike Show. Equipment used by the 1071st Maintenance Company was also featured in the show. The funds will go to the Family Readiness Group, which supports soldier's families during deployments or if they are dealing with hardships. Crowds look over the HUP Race boats prior to the start of the races.

HUP Race draws crowds despite incoming rainstorms

Mother Nature held off rainstorms long enough to the delight of the Hurry Up and Paddle Race (HUP Race) participants and spectators as the AuSable River Festival got into full swing.

The 2012 HUP Race had a total of 14 teams, who built their own HUP boats and raced them on the Millpond in the Grayling City Park.

As rainstorms were kept at bay, the eventual first and second place finishers competed in the first-heat of the HUP race.

The first place team, from Camp Grayling's Maneuver Area Equipment and Training Site (MATES), finished with a time of 1:19.37, followed by SMK Beautification, with a time of 1:25.81.

The Doesn't Have a Clue Award went to the team from Mobile Medical Response.

The Sinker Award was presented to the team McLean's Ace Hardware.

The team from Forest of Fear, a group which raises money for non-profit organizations prior to Halloween, won the award for the Best Costume.

The most creative award was presented to the team from Springs Window Fashions.

More than 100 runners compete in 2012 GRA 10K

More than 100 runners competed in the GRA 10K – an annual race conducted by the Grayling Recreation Authority during the AuSable River Festival – on the morning of Saturday, July 28.

This year's race featured 107 competitors. The 10K has topped the 100-runner mark in each of the last three years following a change in venue in 2010.

Three years ago, GRA moved the race back to town after having the event at Grayling High School for eight years (2002 through 2009). Prior to 2002, the 10K started at Grayling Middle School. GRA moved it back to the middle school in an effort to bring it closer to the AuSable River Festival events downtown.

The race course for this year started and ended near the middle school. Participants ran on Michigan Avenue, crossed North Down River Road onto Roberts Road, turned around on Lewiston Grade, a gravel road, and returned to the middle school to finish.

Cyclists complete 100-mile trip to Oscoda during Black Bear

More than 300 people participate in annual event

Uptown Grayling was busy Sunday morning, July 29, as 334 Black Bear Bicycle Tour participants pedaled off to catch the canoes on their way to Oscoda. Before the 100-mile trip was over, riders were treated to a sunny struggle to keep up with the canoes of the AuSable Canoe Marathon that started the night before.

The fastest rider was in the Recumbent Class; Chris Evans of Northwest, MI rode his streamlined recumbent bicycle to a near record time of 3 hours, 49 minutes and 19 seconds. The fastest traditional bike was Anthony Bruley of Rochester Hills in the Men's 41-45 Class at 4:11:30. The fastest female was Amy Miller of Holland, MI in the Women's 31-40 Class at 4:34:43.

Local Grayling favorite Brock Prater, who had previously competed in the Special Olympics, finished in 9 hours and 37 seconds. Evelyn Moon, age 78, from East Tawas, the only woman in that age category, finished in 9:43:45.

Black Bear Bicycle Tour participants prepare for the start of the event on Sunday, July 29.

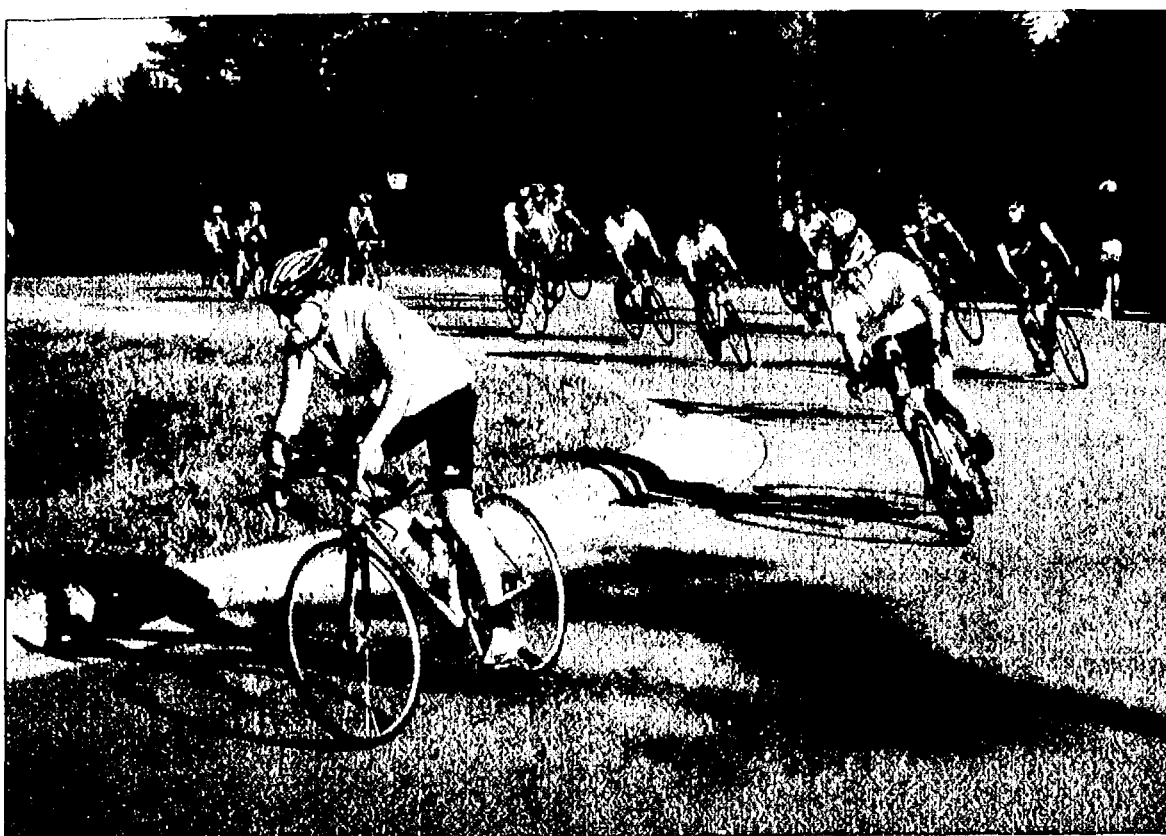

"A rider without comparison, anyone meeting Evelyn would be inclined to believe she was having the most fun," event organizers said.

This year's Black Bear riders included entrants from eight different states and two foreign countries. Entries from other than Michigan were from Ohio, Georgia, Texas, Illinois, Indiana, California, Florida, Colorado, Ontario, Canada and Salzburg, Austria.

The Black Bear Bicycle Tour is sponsored by the Grayling Rotary Club and supported by the Avita Water company. The Grayling Rotary Club uses its funds to support local and world-wide efforts that help youth programs and international clear water projects.

A group of Black Bear riders rounds a curve during the event.

"Because the group this year is so young she taught us a new serve receive - the same one Ferris does, a lot about teamwork, and some tips for aggressive serving," said Lindsay Smith, GHS varsity volleyball coach. The GHS volleyball program will begin its official practice sessions for the 2012 fall season on Wednesday, Aug. 8. RECIPE OF THE WEEK

FARMER'S MARKET CHICKEN SKILLET

Ingredients:

- 1/2 lb. linguine, uncooked
- 6 small, boneless skinless chicken breast halves (1-1/2 lb.)
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 2 Tbsp. olive oil, divided
- 3 zucchini, sliced
- 3 yellow squash, sliced
- 4 cloves garlic, minced
- 1-1/2 cups Shredded Italian Three Cheese Blend
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh basil
- 1/4 cup Grated Parmesan Cheese

Directions:

COOK pasta in large saucepan as directed on package, omitting salt.

MEANWHILE, sprinkle chicken with pepper. Heat 1 Tbsp. oil in large non-stick skillet on medium heat. Add chicken; cook 5 to 7 min. on each side or until done (165°F). Remove to plate; cover to keep warm. Add remaining oil to same skillet. Add squash; stir-fry 3 min. Add garlic; stir-fry 3 min. or until squash is crisp-tender.

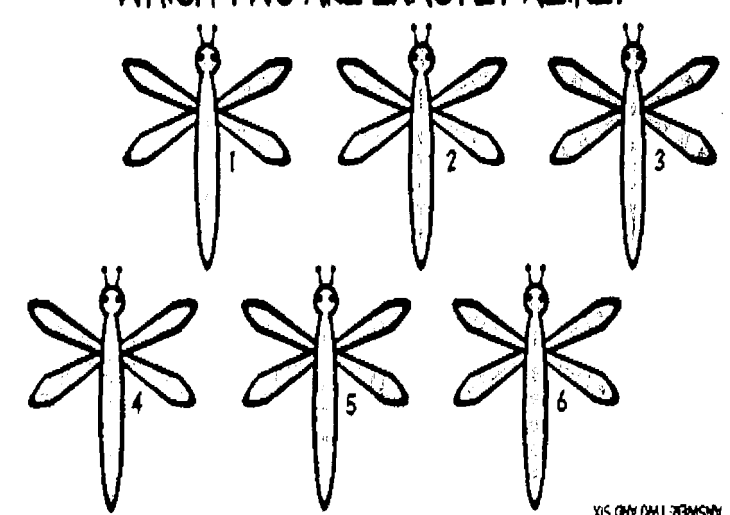

DRAIN pasta, reserving 1/4 cup cooking water. Toss pasta with reserved water in same pan; place on large serving platter. Top with chicken, squash and remaining ingredients.

Tip For best results, select small zucchini for recipe use. Because they're younger, they have thinner, more tender skins and smaller seeds. The skins should be free of blemishes and have a vibrant color.

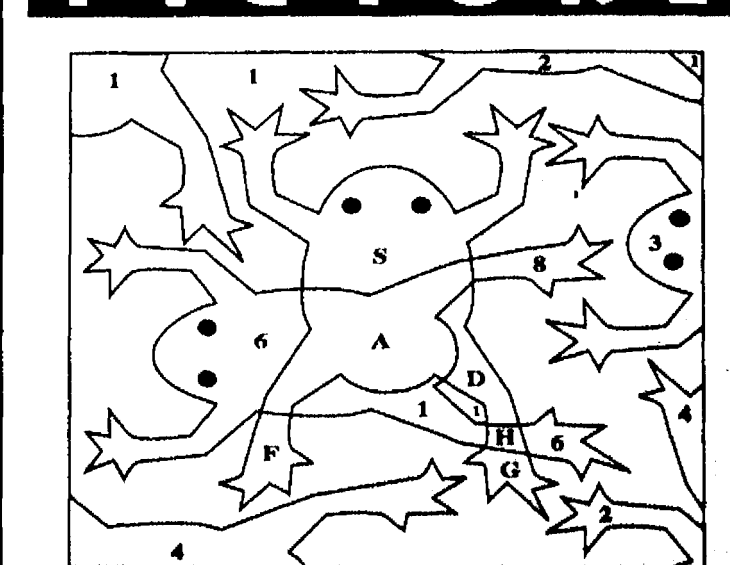

Prep Time: 35 min

Grayling Country Club News

Tuesday Morning Ladies Golf League

It was a cool morning for our league play this Tuesday for the ladies league at the Grayling Country Club. The storm that moved through not only gave us a good soaking but the winds broke apart many trees throughout the golf course. The grounds crew was hardy at work clearing up the fairways so we could have a good round of golf. Carlene McMurtrie and Diana Amato moved into the first place position, trading places with Linda Fouts and Balkis Shippy, who have now slid into second place. There were a total of five skins taken this week by Sandy Winkle, Linda Fouts, Diana Amato, and Roxanne James. Roxanne also won low putts with a 32.

We all saw an eagle flying over the course and the family of sand cranes scouting the course for food.
